TO DEMONSTRATE ACTUAL SERVICE

Tractors Purchased by Chattanooga Interstate Fair

Chattanooga, March 18.—Two big gasoline tractors with complete plowing and harrowing equipment were purchased last week by the Chattanooga Interstate Fair, formerly the Chattanooga District Fair, for the benefit of the farmers of this territory. The tractors will be turned over to the farm demonstration agents with instructions to rent them to farmers who need plowing at the actual cost of operation.

The fair officials believe that these two plows will enable the farmers of this section to get in several thousand acres of ground planted for food stuff which they would not otherwise cultivate, and in addition to the large amount of money made from these acres, the tractors will at all times demonstrate the efficiency of up-to-date farm machinery.

Tractors have been in common use in the west for many years. The fair officials hope to start a move which will make them just as popular in the south.

J. R. Curtis, secretary, said that this was the first southern fair to engage in work of this character.

Special to the News.

We are having lots of rain here. It is going to put farmers behind with their crops. There has been but very little farm work done here on account of so much rain. We have gardened some.

There are several cases of "flu" around here.

Come on, all of you good writers. I enjoy reading your letters.

"Old Lazy," I would give two nickles to know who you are. Come again. I sure enjoy reading your letters. You write about so many of my kinfolks. I had never thought about about "Sunshine" being Aunt Jane Rogers. Tell her that I would be glad to see her. I would like to visit my old home place once more. Can you tell me what has become of cousin Nannie Hibbs. I have not heard anything from her in a long time. Has uncle W. B. Rogers' son returned home from France? There are several of our neighbor boys returned home. I am glad they are getting back to their parents. Who is D. R. Rogers? Tell all of my relatives that I would like to hear from them.

Come on, Brother Milt, of Crisp, Texas. I enjoy reading your letters.

I am sorry "Lonie Star" has quit writing his long interesting letters to the News. I hope he will write a long letter when he gets to Paris. I hope to see letters from all the good writers in this week's paper.

Ex. County Agent

Buys Fine Farm

F. M. Hutchinson has purchased the Frank Kelly farm near Whitwell. He was formerly county agricultural agent, but the proposition to have one in Marion county was defeated at last term of county court. Marion and one other county have the distinction of being the only counties in Tennessee without farm agents.

Albert Brewer, who resides on the Bennett farm three miles east of here, was arrested Friday for having whiskey in his possession, possibly without a doctor's certificate. A quart was found in the bed and a gallon jug was in hiding away from the house. The arrest was made by Sheriff Coppinger, who is getting a little impatient over this whiskey business, and is getting busy following up violators. The captured whiskey was put away for evidence and Brewer released on bond, to await examination before a justice.

WILD MAN NOT FEROCIOUS

A wild-man in a carnival company holding forth at Whitwell last week was not ferocious enough to suit the taste of some of the youths of the town, and they cut the electric light wires illuminating the scene of his wild maneuvers and in the darkness tapped him on the head with something or other that produced a knot the size of an egg. The wild man went to squalling over his injuries, and Sheriff Coppinger, who was on the scene, went to his aid, hauled him from his den, and took him to the company hospital where attention was given him.

Incidental with the above racket four of the show people were arrested for gambling operations and were tried in Justice Court Saturday.

The wild man was an ordinary human arrayed in skins and other impedimenta, and was not nearly so ferocious as he seemed. The youths got disgusted with his antics, and gave him the "fifth degree" so as to see if it was real wildness or not.

PURCHASED FARM AT BATTLE CREEK

W. A. Price has sold his farm in Pryor Cove, purchased from A. L. McCullough, to Jesse Wooten and has purchased a fine farm near the mouth of Sweeden's Cove, at Battle Creek. It is part of the Burke farm, and he purchased it jointly with John Smith. Smith and his brother, Robert, were in partnership in the merchandise business at Ketchall, and bought the farm. Later, however, the former exchanged his interest in the store for the latter's interest in the farm and Mr. Price went into partnership with him in the operation of it. Mr. Price sold his Pryor Cove farm for $1500.

BUGGY DEMOLISHED BY EXCITED MULE

Ford had an accident that was of the near-serious order last week when a mule he was driving in a top buggy, became frightened at some object and bolted tearing the front wheels from the buggy and breaking the shafts. Mr. Ford narrowly escaped injury in the wreck, getting off with severe bruises.
